& COLLECTS

Michaelmas Term 2009

THE COLLECTS

THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER EPIPHANY

(Week beginning 17 January)

Almighty and everlasting God, who dost govern all things in heaven and earth; Mercifully hear the supplications of thy people, and grant us thy peace all the days of our life; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE THIRD SUNDAY AFTER EPIPHANY

(Week beginning 24 January)

Almighty and everlasting God, mercifully look upon our infirmities, and in all our dangers and necessities stretch forth thy right hand to help and defend us; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER EPIPHANY (SEPTUAGESIMA)

(Week beginning 31 January)

O Lord, we beseech thee favourably to hear the prayers of thy people; that we, who are justly punished for our offences, may be mercifully delivered by thy goodness, for the glory of thy Name; through Jesus Christ our Saviour, who liveth and reigneth with thee and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

THE SECOND SUNDAY BEFORE LENT (SEXAGESIMA)

(Week beginning 7 February)

O Lord God, who seest that we put not our trust in any thing that we do; Mercifully grant that by thy power we may be defended against all adversity; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE SUNDAY BEFORE LENT (QUINQUAGESIMA)

(Week beginning 14 February)

O Lord, who hast taught us that all our doings without charity are nothing worth; Send thy Holy Ghost, and pour into our hearts that most excellent gift of charity, the very bond of peace and of all virtues, without which whosoever liveth is counted dead before thee: Grant this for thine only Son Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

ASH WEDNESDAY

(17 February)

Almighty and everlasting God, who hatest nothing that thou hast made, and dost forgive the sins of all them that are penitent; Create and make in us new and contrite hearts, that we worthily lamenting our sins, and acknowledging our wretchedness, may obtain of thee, the God of all mercy, perfect remission and forgiveness; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE FIRST SUNDAY OF LENT

(Week beginning 21 February)

O Lord, who for our sake didst fast forty days and forty nights; Give us grace to use such abstinence, that, our flesh being subdued to the Spirit, we may ever obey thy godly motions in righteousness, and true holiness, to thy honour and glory, who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Ghost, one God, world without end. Amen.

THE SECOND SUNDAY OF LENT

(Week beginning 28 February)

Almighty God, who seest that we have no power of ourselves to help ourselves; Keep us both outwardly in our bodies, and inwardly in our souls; that we may be defended from all adversities which may happen to the body, and from all evil thoughts which may assault and hurt the soul; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE THIRD SUNDAY OF LENT

(Week beginning 7 March)

We beseech thee, Almighty God, look upon the hearty desires of thy humble servants, and stretch forth the right hand of thy Majesty, to be our defence against all our enemies; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Gregorio Allegri: Miserere mei, Deus (early C17th)

Miserere mei, Deus, secundum magnam misericordiam tuam:
et secundum multitudinem miserationum tuarum, dele iniquitatem meam.
Amplius lava me ab iniquitate mea:
et a peccato meo munda me.
Quoniam iniquitatem meam ego cognosco:
et peccatum meum contra me est semper.
Tibi soli peccavi, et malum coram te feci:
ut justificeris in sermonibus tuis,
et vincas cum iudicaris.
Ecce enim in iniquitatibus conceptus sum:
et in peccatis concepit me mater mea.
Ecce enim veritatem dilexisti: incerta et occulta sapientiæ tuæ manifestasti mihi.
Asperges me hyssopo,
et mundabor: lavabis me, et super nivem dealbabor.
Auditui meo dabis gaudium et lætitiā:
et exultabunt ossa humiliata.
Averte faciem tuam a peccatis meis:
et omnes iniquitates meas dele.
Cor mundum crea in me, Deus:
et spiritum rectum innova in visceribus meis.
Ne projicias me a facie tua:
et spiritum sanctum tuum ne auferas a me.
Redde mihi lætitiā salutaris tui:
et spiritu principali confirma me.
Docebo iniquos vias tuas:
et impii ad te convertentur.
Libera me de sanguinibus, Deus, Deus salutis meæ:
et exultabit lingua mea iustitiam tuam.
Domine, labia mea aperies:
et os meum annuntiabit laudem tuam.
Quoniam si voluisses sacrificium, dedisse utique:
holocaustis non delectaberis.
Sacrificium Deo spiritus contribulatus:
cor contritum et humiliatum,
Deus, non despicies.
Benigne fac, Domine,
in bona voluntate tua Sion:
ut ædificentur muri Jerusalem.
Tunc acceptabis sacrificium iustitiæ, oblaciones, et holocausta:
tunc imponent super altare tuum vitulos.

*Have mercy upon me, O God,
after thy great goodness:
according to the multitude of thy mercies
do away mine offences.
Wash me thoroughly from my wickedness:
and cleanse me from my sin.
For I acknowledge my faults:
and my sin is ever before me.
Against thee only have I sinned and done this evil in thy sight: that thou mightest be justified in thy saying and clear when thou art judged.
Behold, I was shapen in wickedness:
and in sin hath my mother conceived me.
But lo, thou requirest truth in the inward parts:
and shalt make me to understand wisdom secretly. Thou shalt purge me with hyssop and I shall be clean: thou shalt wash me and I shall be whiter than snow.
Thou shalt make me hear of joy and gladness:
that the bones which thou hast broken may rejoice.
Turn thy face from my sins:
and put out all my misdeeds.
Make me a clean heart, O God:
and renew a right spirit within me.
Cast me not away from thy presence:
and take not thy holy Spirit from me.
O give me the comfort of thy help again:
and stablish me with thy free Spirit.
Then shall I teach thy ways unto the wicked:
and sinners shall be converted unto thee.
Deliver me from blood-guiltiness,
O God, thou that art the God of my health:
and my tongue shall sing of thy righteousness.
Thou shalt open my lips, O Lord:
and my mouth shall shew thy praise.
For thou desirest no sacrifice,
else would I give it thee:
but thou delightest not in burnt-offerings.
The sacrifice of God is a troubled spirit:
a broken and contrite heart,
O God, shalt thou not despise.
O be favourable and gracious unto Sion:
build thou the walls of Jerusalem.
Then shalt thou be pleased with the sacrifice of righteousness, with the burnt offerings and oblaciones: then shall they offer young bullocks upon thine altar.*

Johann Sebastian Bach: Komm, Jesu, komm (before 1732)

Komm, Jesu, komm,
mein Leib ist müde,
die Kraft verschwindt
je mehr und mehr,
ich sehne mich nach deinem Friede;
der saure Weg wird mir zu schwer!

*Come, Jesu, come,
my flesh is weary,
my strength is fading
more and more,
I long for thy peace
the bitter path grows too hard for me!*

Komm, komm, ich will mich dir ergeben;
du bist der rechte Weg,
die Wahrheit und das Leben.

*Come, come, I would give myself up to thee;
thou art the right path,
the truth and the life.*

Drum schließ ich mich in deine Hände und sage, Welt, zu guter Nacht!
Eilt gleich mein Lebenslauf zu Ende,

*So I enfold myself in thy hands and say, World, goodnight!
Though the course of my life is running to its end,*

ist doch der Geist wohl angebracht.

Henry Balfour Gardiner: Evening Hymn – Te lucis ante terminum (1908)

Te lucis ante terminum
Rerum Creator poscimus
Ut pro tua clementia
Sis praesul et custodia.

*Before the ending of the day,
Creator of the world, we pray
That with thy wonted favour thou Wouldst be our guard and keeper now.*

Procul recedant somnia Et noctium phantasmata
Hostemque nostrum comprime
Ne pollutantur corpora.

*From all ill dreams defend our eyes,
From nightly fears and fantasies,
Tread under foot our ghostly foe
That no pollution we may know.*

Præsta, Pater piissime
Patrique compar unice
Cum Spiritu Paraclito
Regnans per omne sæculum. Amen.

*O Father, that we ask be done
Through Jesus Christ, thine only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and thee,
Doth live and reign eternally. Amen.*

Sir Arnold Bax: This worldes joie (1922)

Wynter wakeneth al my care,

When hit cometh in my thoht
Of this worldes joie,
Hou hit goth al to noht.

Nou hit is, ant nou hit nys,

Ant shild us from helle!
For y not whider y shal,

*Winter wakens all my care,
Now these leaves grow bare;
Often I sigh and sorely mourn
When this world's joy
Comes into my thought,
How it all comes to nought.*

*Now it is, and now it is not,
As though it had never been, I believe.
Many men say that it is true:
Everything vanishes except God's will:
We shall all die, though we like it ill.*

*Everything green grows green for me,
Now it fades altogether:
Jesus, help it to be seen
And shield us from hell!
For I know not whither I shall go,
Nor how long I shall dwell here.*

David Bednall: Hail, gladdening light (2006)

Lumen ad revelationem gentium,
et gloriam plebis tuæ Israel.
Nunc dimittis servum tuum, Domine, secundum verbum tuum in pace:
Quia viderunt oculi mei salutare tuum.
Quod parasti ante faciem omnium populorum.
Lumen ad revelationem gentium,
et gloriam plebis tuæ Israel.

*A light to lighten the gentiles:
and the glory of thy people Israel.
Lord, now lettest thou thy servant
depart in peace: according to thy word.
For mine eyes have seen thy salvation:
which thou hast prepared before the face of all people; To be a light to lighten the gentiles:
and to be the glory of thy people Israel.*

Hail, gladdening light, of His pure glory poured,
Who is the Immortal Father, Heavenly, Blest, Holiest of Holies, Jesu Christ, our Lord.
Now we are come to the sun's hour of rest,
The lights of evening round us shine;
We hymn the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit Divine.
Worthiest art Thou at all times to be sung
With undefiled tongue,
Son of our God, giver of life alone;
Therefore in all the world Thy glories Lord, they own. Amen.

Johannes Brahms: Warum ist das Licht gegeben dem Mühseligen (1877)

Warum ist das Licht gegeben dem Mühseligen, Und das Leben den betrübten Herzen?
Warum?

*Why has the light been given for such misery,
and this life to afflicted spirits?
Why?*

Die des Todes warten und kommt nicht,
und grüben ihn wohl aus dem Verborgenen;
die sich fast freuen und sind fröhlich,
daß sie das Grab bekommen.
Warum?

*For they wait for death that comes not,
and dig for it as they dig for hidden things;
and they rejoice and are contented,
when they at last may perish.
Why?*

Und dem Manne, deß Weg verborgen ist,
und Gott vor ihm denselben bedekket.
Warum?

*Why is light given him whose ways are hid,
when God has veiled his pathway before him?
Why?*

Lasset uns unser Herz samt den Händen aufheben zu Gott im Himmel.

Let us all lift our hearts and our hands to God in heaven.

Siehe, wir preisen selig,
die erduldet haben.
Die Geduld Hiob habt ihr gehört, und das Ende des Herrn habt ihr gesehen;
denn der Herr ist barmherzig und ein Erbarmer.

*Truly we call them happy that have endured steadfast.
Job and his patience you have all heard of,
and the purpose of God by this was shown you;
for the Lord has compassion and plenteous mercy.*

Mit Fried und Freud ich fahr dahin,
in Gottes Willen, getrost ist mir mein Herz und Sinn, sanft und stille.
Wie Gott mir verheißten hat,
der Tod ist mir Schlaf worden.

*In peace and joy I go my way,
as God ordains it.
My spirit has found grace this day;
He maintains it.
As He has made known to me,
Death's sleep shall come upon me.*

David Briggs: O Lord, support us (2005)

O Lord, support us all the day long, until the shadows lengthen and the evening comes,
and the busy world is hushed,
and the fever of life is over, and our work is done.
Then in thy mercy grant us a safe lodging,
and a holy rest,
and peace at the last. Amen.

Benjamin Britten: A Hymn of St Columba (1962)

Regis regum rectissimi
prope est dies Domini,
dies iræ et vindictæ,
tenebrarum et nebulæ,
Regis regum rectissimi.

*King of kings and lords most high,
Comes his day of judgement nigh:
Day of shadows and vengeance stark,
Day of wrath and cloudy dark.
King of kings and of lords most high.*

Diesque mirabilium
tonitruorum fortium,
dies quoque angustiae,
mæroris ac tristitiæ.
Regis regum rectissimi.

*Thunder shall rend that day apart,
Wonder amaze each fearful heart.
Anguish and pain and deep distress
Shall mark that day of bitterness.
King of kings and of lords most high.*

In quo cessabit mulierum
amor et desiderium, nominumque contentio
mundi hujus et cupido,
Regis regum rectissimi.

*That day the pangs of lust will cease,
Man's questioning heart shall be at peace;
Then shall the great no more contend
And worldly fame be at an end.
King of kings and of lords most high.*

Carson P Cooman: A Cosmic Prayer (2002)

O God of the heavens and the earth,
of the astronomical and the subatomic,
of the living and the dead,
of science and history,
of life and love.

We give you thanks for the miraculous variety of your creation.
We pray for the energy and time and patience and talent to learn more about the world you have made, and for the humility always to recognize how little we know. Amen.

et tertia undique volat.
Laus tibi sit, sicut te decet,
O Sapientia.

*O strength of Wisdom, which circles the spheres comprehending everything of which one rushes to the heights

Frank Ferko: O vis æternitatis (from Hildegard Triptych, 1997)

O vis æternitatis quæ omnia ordinasti in corde tuo,
per Verbum tuum omnia creata sunt, sicut voluisti,
et ipsum Verbum tuum induit carnem in formatione illa, quæ educta est de Adam, et sic indumenta ipsius
a maximo dolore abstersa sunt.

O quam magna est benignitas Salvatoris, qui omnia liberavit per incarnationem suam, quam Divinas expiravit sine vinculo peccati.

Et sic indumenta ipsius a maximo
dolore abstersa sunt.

Gloria Patri et Filio et Spiritui Sancto.

Et sic indumenta ipsius a maximo
dolore abstersa sunt.

*O strength eternal who has ordered all things
in your heart,
through your Word you have created all
just as you have desired, and your Word himself put on flesh in that form which was assumed by Adam.
And thus his raiment from the greatest sorrows has been cleansed.*

O how great is the kindness of the Saviour who liberated all through his incarnation which the Divinity exhaled without the imprisonment of sin.

And thus his raiment from the greatest sorrows has been cleansed.

*Glory to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit.*

sorrows has been cleansed.*

Howard Hanson: A Prayer of the Middle Ages (1976)

We declare unto all the ages as the greatest marvel, ere there were hills and trees or the mighty ocean, ere the sunlight shone forth or the moon cast its beams,
when naught was, from end to end,
there wert Thou, O God, Thou almighty God,
from time unknown to time unknown, Eternal God, Thou who madest heaven and earth,
give to us wisdom, prudence and strength,
give through Thy holy blessing faith unending that Thy will we may do. Amen.

William Hawley: Mosella (from Two Motets)

Quis color ille vadis,
seras cum propulit umbras Hesperus et viridi perfudit monte Mosellam!
tota natant crispis iuga motibus et tremit absens pampinus et vitreis vindemia turget in undis.

*What colour are they now, thy quiet waters?
The evening star has brought the evening light,
and filled the river with the green hillside;
the hill-tops waver in the rippling water;
trembles the absent vine
and swells the grape in thy clear crystal.*

Herbert Howells: Take him, earth, for cherishing (1964)

Take him, earth, for cherishing,
To thy tender breast receive him.
Body of a man I bring thee,
Noble even in its ruin.

Once was this a spirit's dwelling,
By the breath of God created.
High the heart that here was beating,
Christ the prince of all its living.

Guard him well, the dead I give thee,
Not unmindful of His creature
Shall He ask it: He who made it Symbol of His mystery.

Comes the hour God hath appointed
To fulfil the hope of men,
Then must thou, then must thou
What I give, return again.

Not though ancient time decaying
Wear away these bones to sand,
Ashes that a man might measure
In the hollow of his hand:

Not though wandering winds and idle
Drifting through the empty sky
Scatter dust was nerve and sinew,
Is it given to man to die.

Once again the shining road
Leads to ample Paradise;
Open are the woods again,
That the Serpent lost for men.

Take, O take him, mighty Leader,
Take again thy servant's soul.
Grave his name, and pour the fragrant Balm upon the icy stone.

Take him, earth, for cherishing,
To thy tender breast receive him.
Body of a man I bring thee,
Noble even in its ruin.
By the breath of God created.
Christ the prince of all its living.
Take him, earth, for cherishing.

Kenneth Leighton: Crucifixus pro nobis iv (1961)

In your deep floods drown all my faults and fears;
Nor let His eye see sin, but through my tears.

surpassing all we know.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son,
and to the Holy Spirit.

Even with darkness sealing us in,

we trust in you;
endless your grace, O endless your grace,
beyond all mortal dream.

Robert Saxton: The Child of Light (1985)

Over rough land they travel, the shepherds, Beneath the star their way shines bright as they journey onward through the night.
Though their way is cold and harsh, the hopeful, no turning back for them in darkness from this humble birthnight, humble in its dawn.
As they near a simple stable, the faithful,
the earth appears to be reborn;
A beacon beckons, future of the World.
Now they see the mother caring, these wise men,
Beneath the star their faith shines bright;
they wonder ever at the Child of Light.

Paul Stanhope: Deserts of Exile (2nd Movement, 2007)

In the deserts of exile, spring after spring, what are we doing with our love,
while our eyes are full of dust and rime.

Migravit Iudas propter afflictionem et multitudinem servitutis, habitavit inter gentes nec invenit requiem.
*(Judah is gone into captivity because of affliction, and because of great servitude:
she dwelleth among the heathen, she findeth no rest.)*

Our Palestine green land of ours;
its flowers as if embroidered of women's gowns,
March adorns its hills with the jewel-like peony and narcissus;
April bursts open in its plains with flowers and bride-like blossoms;
May is our rustic song which we sing at noon in the blue shadows, among the olive trees of the valleys, and in the ripeness of the fields, we wait for the promise of July,
and the joyous dance amidst the harvest.

Via Sion lugent eo quod non sint qui veniant ad solennitatem omnes portae eius destructae, sacerdotes gementes, virgines eius squalidae et ipsa oppressa amaritudine.
*(The ways of Zion do mourn, because none come to the solemn feasts:
all her gates are desolate:
her priests sigh, her virgins are afflicted, and she is in bitterness.)*

Oh land of ours where our childhood passed like dreams in the shade of the orange groves among the almond-trees in the valleys, remember us now wandering among the thorns of the desert, remember us now wandering in rocky mountains.
In the tumult of cities beyond deserts and seas;
remember us, with our eyes full of dust that never clears in our ceaseless wandering.

Facti sunt hostes eius in capite, inimici illius locupletati sunt, parvuli eius ducti sunt captivi.
(Her adversaries are the chief, her enemies prosper, her children are gone into captivity.)

They crushed the flowers on the hills around us, destroyed the houses over our heads, scattered our torn remains then unfolded the desert before us, with valleys writhing in hunger and blue shadow shattered into red thorn bent over corpses left as prey for falcon and crow.

Omnes persecutores eius apprehenderunt eam inter angustias.
(All her persecutors overtook her between the straits.)

In the deserts of exile only the dust hisses in our face, spring after spring,
what then are we doing with our love,
when our eyes are full of dust and rime?

Thomas Tallis: O nata lux (1575)

O nata lux de lumine,

Qui carne quondam contegi
dignatus es pro perditis nos membra confer effici tui beati corporis.

*O Light of light, by love inclined,
Jesus, redeemer of mankind,
With loving-kindness deign to hear
From suppliant voices praise and prayer.
Thou who to raise our souls from hell
Didst deign in fleshly form to dwell,
Vouchsafe us, when our race is run,
In thy fair Body to be one.*

John Tavener: Mother of God, here I stand (The Veil of the Temple, 2002)

Mother of God, here I stand now praying, before this ikon of your radiant brightness;
not praying to be saved from a battlefield, not giving thanks, nor seeking forgiveness for the sins of my soul, nor for all the souls numb, joyless and desolate on earth.
But for her alone, whom I wholly give you.

Frank Ticheli: There will be rest (1999)

There will be rest, and sure stars shining
Over the roof-tops crowned with snow,
A reign of rest, serene forgetting,
The music of stillness holy and low.

I will make this world of my devising,
Out of a dream in my lonely mind,
I shall find the crystal of peace –
Above me stars I shall find.

TRINITY COLLEGE CHAPEL AND CHOIR

The College's choral associations date back to the establishment of The King's Hall by Edward II in 1317. This College, incorporated by Edward III in 1337, was amalgamated with an adjacent early fourteenth-century foundation, Michaelhouse, when Henry VIII created Trinity in 1546.

From the time of Edward II, Chapel Royal choristers, on leaving the Court, customarily entered The King's Hall to continue their academic studies, alongside other undergraduates training for service in the royal administration. A considerable proportion of the pensioners and scholars – “the King's Childer” – admitted to The King's Hall, from the date of its foundation until the end of Henry V's reign, were ex-choristers.

The constitution of the mediæval chapel choir remains obscure. Music doubtless flourished in the College as a practical pursuit, as well as forming one of the disciplines of the quadrivium. Interestingly, the first recorded Doctorate of Music was conferred, in 1461, on a member of The King's Hall, the then Warden, Thomas St Just.

The choral foundation which Mary Tudor established for Trinity in 1553 – ten choristers, six lay-clerks, four priests, an organist, and a schoolmaster – survived essentially unchanged for over three hundred years.

Among the musicians associated with the choir during this time were the Tudor composers Thomas Preston, organist during Edward VI's reign; Robert Whyte, a chorister and lay-clerk during the 1550s; and John Hilton the elder, Organist and Master of the Choristers from 1594 to 1609. Robert Ramsey held the post of Organist from 1628 until 1644; one of his lay-clerks was the theorist, Thomas Mace, appointed a 'singing-man' in 1635. George Loosemore became Organist at the Restoration. Later choirmasters included James Kent and John Randall during the eighteenth century and Thomas Walmisley during the nineteenth.

During the late 1890s, not long after Vaughan Williams was an undergraduate and Stanford the Organist of Trinity, the College choir-school closed down. Thereafter, a choir of boy trebles (holding scholarships at a local grammar school), lay-clerks (some of whom shared their singing duties with the choirs of King's and St John's), and students continued the regular pattern of choral services, under the direction of Alan Gray and his successor, Hubert Middleton, until the 1950s. This traditionally-constituted choir was then replaced by a body of undergraduate tenors and basses when Raymond Leppard became Director of Music. In 1982, following the admission of women undergraduates to the College, Richard Marlow, Director of Music from 1968 to 2006, formed Trinity's mixed choir, which comprises up to thirty choral scholars.

The Chapel, occupying the site of the mediæval chapel of The King's Hall, was built at the instigation of Mary Tudor and completed, by Queen Elizabeth, in 1567.

The 'Father Smith' organs – their original cases now restored – were built in 1694 and 1708; six ranks of the old pipework remain in the main organ, which was rebuilt by Metzler of Zürich in 1976. The screen, stalls, panelling and reredos date from the early eighteenth century. The baldacchino painting of St Michael and the Dragon by Benjamin West was commissioned in 1777. The stained glass windows in Chapel are by the Pre-Raphaelite artist Henry Holiday RA (1839-1927); their historical theme was devised by Westcott and Hort. Many of the faces of the great figures of the Church are portraits of eminent Victorians.

The monuments in the ante-chapel – predominantly the work of Victorian and Edwardian sculptors – include Roubiliac's statue of Newton, erected in 1755, and his wall-bust of Daniel Lock. Among the earlier memorials are a brass of 1565 commemorating John Beaumont and, in the side-chapel, a reclining effigy of Thomas Seckford, who died as an undergraduate in 1624.
